

Z. Murat Kilic: Dr. Kilic is a Senior Lecturer at the School of Engineering at The University of Manchester. He earned his PhD degree and Postdoctoral research experience from the University of British Columbia and has 2.5 years of industry experience. His research interests are on machining dynamics, digital manufacturing, high performance tools and process optimisation. He is a Research Affiliate of the International Academy for Production Engineering (CIRP) and a Member of the Reviewing Committee of the International Journal of Machine Tools and Manufacture. The papers he co-authored received ASME Blackall (2012) and SIGGRAPH Asia Best Technical Paper (2022) awards.